MAIL CAR IS RIFLED BY BANDIT

Near Columbia, S. C., Last Night and Robber Makes Escape

REGISTERED POUCHES

Were Secured Just As Train Was Pulling Into Corporation Limits—Similar Robbery Occurred Just Two Years Ago at Same Place.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbia, S. C., March 6.—The authorities redoubled their efforts today to capture the bandit who last night held up and robbed the mail car of Southern railway train No. 11 from Charleston to Columbia, just as the train reached the latter place.

Aided by the local police, special officers of the railroad company were scouring the country for the robber, but so far no trace of him has been found. The officers were hampered in their search because of the lack of an adequate description of the robber. C. E. Thomas, the mail clerk, could only describe the man as masked and about five feet eight inches tall.

Another difficulty is the fact that the bandit, after robbing the train, escaped some time before the search could be undertaken, although the robbery was reported immediately after the train arrived in Columbia.

Boarding the train just as it entered the city limits, the robber flourished a revolver, ordered Thomas to stand with his face to the wall and, after quickly securing several sacks of registered mail, jumped off the train and made off, some time before the train reached the station.

Until the records of the Charleston postoffice can be examined, it will be impossible to ascertain the value of the packages taken. This examination was begun early today.

It was recalled here today that just two years ago the same train was robbed, the place, the hour and the circumstances being identically the same as last night's holdup. The robber escaped then only with a small amount of booty.

CONSPIRACY TO OBSTRUCT JUSTICE; VERDICT AFFIRMED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, March 6.—The Appellate division of the Supreme Court today unanimously affirmed the conviction of former Police Inspectors Murtha, Thompson and Sweeney, found guilty of having conspired to obstruct justice. In the case of the fourth convicted inspector, Hussey, the court reversed the conviction and directed Hussey's discharge from the Blackwell's Island penitentiary. The decision comes to the effect that the term of a year expires on Monday next. On that date, also, the others are to be released, provided they meet fines of $500. The four were convicted of spiriting witnesses out of the county.

Comment On Contest

"The easiest pictures I ever tried to solve," said a sweet voiced miss over the phone to the contest editor this morning. The next moment came a message from Hudson avenue saying: "Why do you make your pictures so hard?"

"If they're all so easy as the ones you've printed I'll get that $515 all right," writes another contestant, while a fourth who stepped in for a few coupons smilingly remarked: "Guess I'll need a catalogue, too, to get that auto."

One says they're dead easy, another declares they're hard but ALL ADMIT THEY'RE GREAT FUN.

One well-known business man said last night that his mother-in-law had "cut out" her card playing, declaring she had more fun at home hunting for the right answer to the day's picture.

The several windows where enterprising merchants are displaying the coupons and "probable answers" are attracting much attention, hundreds upon hundreds who are studying the pictures stopping to see the answers and to compare them with their own solutions. "That's a good one," declared one young miss, while another turning up her nose remarked that her own solution is the only real answer. And so it goes. The merchants of course don't know the real answers but they are offering their solutions for what they are worth and are not charging for the suggestions. They are making a hit and the crowds about the windows where the "probable answers" are posted indicate the widespread and growing interest in the Advocate contest which has taken the town by storm. Every day sees more and more people interested. Every day the number solving the pictures increases as practically everybody now knows that it is a very simple thing to "get in" as its costs nothing and the entrance is not surrounded by any fussy red tape. In a little while one can get answers to the pictures already printed and then be ready for each daily picture. There will be seventy in all. There are 136 prizes. Read the big list in this paper. The prizes are worth $2,846 and they will be given free to readers of the Advocate. The contest is proving to be a tremendous success. Those who are not yet in the big game are cordially invited to join. Suppose you can't guess the right answer to every picture, does anybody expect to get all of them right? Any way you have five chances for each picture.

James M. Curley, Boston's New Mayor.

Mayor Curley will go down in political history as the man who has tried to saddle a federal and municipal office at one and the same time. Curley is a fine and upstanding Irishman, who, on February 2nd began service as Mayor of the New England metropolis, drew a salary check from Congress on February 4th, and whom, on February 23rd, Republican leader Mann dramatically sought to have stricken from the Congressional payroll because of the dual office.

Big Crowd Greet Baseball Players Upon Arrival Home

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, March 6.—The world touring American baseball players came home today in a snowstorm. While harbor craft tooted and envoys from the Federal league figuratively waved enticing contracts, the Giant-White Sox combination drew into quarantine shortly after eight o'clock.

The Federal league representatives were unable to obtain passes to board the Lusitania to greet the travelers down the bay. Organized baseball was more fortunate in having obtained revenue cutter passes in advance and a delegation was able to board the ship before she came to her pier.

The Giants-White Sox baseball touring party gathered in Cincinnati on Saturday, Oct. 18, where the first game of the long schedule was played against the Cincinnati club. From there the players traveled in a special train by easy stages to the Pacific coast playing frequent games enroute. Doubts regarding the financial prospects of the trip were early removed by the unexpectedly large attendance and when the squad sailed from Seattle on Nov. 19, thirty-two games had been played in thirty-three days.

During the foreign part of the tour the largest attendance was recorded in Japan, Australia and England. The biggest game played was collected at the game played in London on Feb. 26, when 30,000 spectators including King George, witnessed the defeat of the Giants by the White Sox in a sensational eleven inning game.

More than 70 games were played during the trip and the list would have been larger but for rain at Paris, Rome and several cities in China and Japan. Notwithstanding these setbacks the financial returns were far in excess of expectations and the profits are estimated at nearly $100,000.

Manager McGraw, of the New York Nationals and Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago American League club, who financed the expedition, ceased to worry about the success of the tour several months ago.

The ferry boat Niagara, chartered for the occasion and laden with fans, steamed down the bay to greet the tourists. Men and boys on board dressed in baseball uniforms lined the rails and waved flags as the band played. A light snow was still falling as the Lusitania nosed her way up the river.

The ball players stood at the rails cheering wildly in response to the welcome and one of their number unfurled a huge American flag. In a final concert on the liner last night "Germany" Herman Schaefer sang German songs and Mike Donlin displayed his talents as an entertainer.

Nearly every player received some sort of offer from the Federals by wireless. None, however, announced an intention of signing.

Dick Egan, the Cincinnati shortstop recently sold to Brooklyn, promptly signed up with the Federals. Tris Speaker said he would sign up with the Boston, and Doolin made the same promise to Baker of Philadelphia.

Bar Johnson of the American League was one of the first to greet John J. McGraw and Charles Comiskey on board the Lusitania. Mr. Comiskey was looking well considering his size of illness he had aboard. He and McGraw were enthusiastic over the reception accorded the teams, especially the way they were received in Japan and England.

CLAIMED HE WAS PROPHET DANIEL; POLICE HAVE HIM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, March 6.—Traffic was brought to a standstill in one of the boulevards today when a tall German, attired in a long black gown appeared in the roadway, shouting in a loud voice "Hear ye! I am the prophet Daniel. Hear ye!"

The man then displayed a large sheet of calico on which was printed in red letters

"A great wind will fall upon Paris and everyone will be swept up to the clouds—above all the inhabitants of the boulevard Saint German."

After displaying the prediction he exhorted the crowd to read the gospel. The police took the man into custody.

Ellis Gets Fifteen Years for the Murder of His Wife in Chicago

JURY TAKES 10 BALLOTS

Accused Man Killed Wife in Chicago Hotel—Asserted Killing Was Result of a Suicide Agreement Between Them.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Chicago, March 6.—William Cheney Ellis, the Cincinnati leather merchant, who was convicted yesterday and punishment fixed at fifteen years imprisonment for the murder of his wife in a Chicago hotel last October, today occupied a cell in the county jail awaiting action on a motion for a new trial.

George Remus, Ellis' counsel, indicated that he would not press the motion which was filed immediately after the verdict was read. Should a new trial be denied, Mr. Remus said Ellis probably would be taken to the penitentiary without appealing to a higher court.

Both Ellis and his attorney seemed satisfied with the verdict. Mr. Remus termed the verdict "a complete victory for the defense."

From one juror it was learned that 10 ballots were taken. The first showed eight for conviction, four for acquittal as an insane man. Of the eight, four were for death penalty and four for life imprisonment.

Then they began to "trade," the juror said. Finally all were won away from the infliction of the death penalty. By compromise the ninth ballot showed a conviction, none for the death penalty. Eleven voted to imprison Ellis 15 years, and the twelfth insisted he would not vote for more than 14 years.

"Finally," said the juror, "the eleven voted the twelfth into a corner, and told him if he didn't agree to 15 years they would beat him."

The case went to the jurors' hands at 1:12 p. m. At 4:25 o'clock they were putting on their coats ready to return the verdict.

Ellis killed his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Hosan Ellis, here Oct. 16, 1913, the night after they had celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary with a dinner and a theater party.

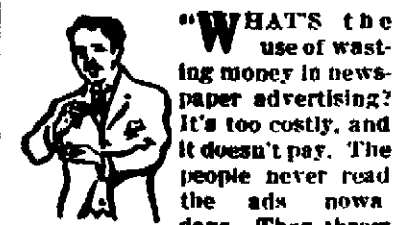

Mrs. Ellis had come here several days ahead of her husband and had made the trip against his wishes. It later was made known. At the trial Ellis defended himself by testifying that he had reason to suspect that his wife was here to meet Fred Caudwell, of Brantford, Ontario, Canada, a young dry goods merchant they had met a month previous while on a vacation in Canada. He said that the thought drove him to frenzy and expert witnesses set up the plea of psychic epilepsy or transitory insanity.

Ellis was a well-known dealer in leather goods in Cincinnati, and was supposed to be wealthy. He is 47.

"WHAT'S the use of wasting money in newspaper advertising? It's too costly, and it doesn't pay. The people never read the ads now days. They throw the paper away after they have skimmed through the news."

"My dear sir, pardon me, but you aren't talking GOOD NEWS. You WON'T waste your money. You'll get it back many times over in DIRECT RESULTS. Newspaper advertising isn't like a billboard or a calendar. You don't have to wait for months to see if you get results. Newspaper advertising is NOT COSTLY. It's CHEAP for the END GAINED. The people DO read the ads—that is, the class that REALLY BUY—and they are the ones that COUNT. Advertising is NEWS."

It is not often that such a conversation really takes place in this day. Every business man now KNOWS that newspaper advertising is a gift edged. It's merely a matter of choosing the best paper.

We are ready to give CIRCULATION FIGURES and to offer you GOOD POSITIONS in our advertising columns at fixed rates. We can PROVE our medium is the BEST.

Gustave Bauch, American, Who Has Disappeared

Let's Get Together

The attention of every resident of Newark is invited to the first column of page four of this edition. Newark must go forward in industrial development—either forward or backward, it can not remain stationary. The city has made great progress in the past but it should make still greater progress in the future. The time to make the effort is now. The time to "get together" is now. Turn now to page 4.

Postoffice Sites Being Suggested For New Building

The question of the location of a new Federal building and postoffice in Newark is now up to the citizens. The government has gone to its limit in the matter and is now waiting the action of property owners and others of Newark's residents.

It is realized not only by those connected with the department but by the average citizen that the site known as the "Sherwood site," which cost the government $18,000 is absolutely unavailable. This can be seen by a glance at the specifications of the department, which call for a corner lot approximately 160 by 160 feet, of sufficient size that roadways or alleys, of a width sufficient in the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury, may be constructed on each of the two sides not on the corner, so that the federal building may have protection from fire originating in adjacent structures. The size of the Sherwood site is given in the following description.

Beginning at the east line of First street at a point 81.5 feet south of the intersection First and East Main streets, thence south 116.5 feet to the alley running east and west, thence east along the north line of said alley, 113 feet, thence north 72.9 feet thence west 24 feet, thence north 43.6 feet, thence west 86 feet to the place of beginning.

It is a matter of common belief that the price paid for this piece of property was disproportionately large in comparison with its real value in the market and it is realized that it will have to be sold at a big sacrifice by the government.

Now it is to avoid just such a complication that every person in Newark wishes to see the next purchase made upon conditions that are alike satisfactory to the government and the vendor of the real estate to be used for the site of a public building.

This can be done if persons having real estate for the purpose will offer it at a price to insure themselves a fair profit, and not hold it at figures that are outlandish, just because the United States is the prospective purchaser.

The appropriation is $150,000 which includes the $18,000 site already owned, and the building to be erected will be a great credit to the city as well as enhancing the value of contiguous real estate.

There are a number of sites mentioned, some of them meeting with more favor as a suggestion than others, which is natural. Some of them are:

The corner owned by A. J. Baldwin upon which the old First M. E. church now stands, with that of the Herlick block added at the corner of Fourth and Church streets.

The seller hotel site at the corner of Second and Franklin streets, midway between the P. C. C. and St. L. and B. and O. depots.

The property owned by Mrs. Mar. A.

Barker at the corner of First and East Main streets, opposite Trinity Episcopal church. This would include the strip of lawn owned by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, adjoining the city house.

The George Graef property, corner Fourth and West Main, including the lot upon which the bakery is built.

The H. D. Woodbridge homestead in South First street, opposite the St. Paul's Lutheran church.

The Daugherty property, corner of Second and Church streets, opposite the Second Presbyterian church. In this, however, would have to be included the strip upon which the marble shop stands, which is owned by Meyer & Lindorf. This strip was a part of the Daugherty property, but was sold to Carl Norpell and by him transferred to the present owners.

The Robert Davidson property, corner of Third and Church streets, diagonally across from the Y. M. C. A.

The Adams Express company site, including the building now occupied by T. W. Dupler.

The "canal site," that is a proposal to build the postoffice on the canal bed between Second and First streets, as was done with the Swisher cigar factory.

The site owned by C. C. Metz, corner Canal and Third streets, to include the lot adjoining on the south owned by Senator W. E. Miller.

The two lots owned by the James E. Thomas estate, corner East Main and Front streets, including the Thomas and the old Montgomery homesteads.

The lot owned by the Knights of Pythias, north side of East Main street, known as the old James H. Smith property, between First and Front streets.

Some of these sites are ideal, it would seem, and it is hoped one can be secured and work be commenced at no far distant date on Newark's new Federal building.

POST WINS OUT IN HIS RACE WITH DEATH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rochester, Minn., March 6.—C. W. Post, of Battle Creek, Mich., won his race with death from California when his special train arrived in this city at 9:25 o'clock this morning, three and one-half hours ahead of schedule.

A short midwinter holiday of two of the attaches of the German embassy and the departure for the city of Mexico of a third attaché formed the foundation for a report that a considerable portion of the embassy staff had been ordered to the Mexican capital.

Captain Franz von Papen, the military attaché, is not only credited to the embassy at Washington but also to the German legation at the city of Mexico. He is commensurate now to his duties and never before has had opportunity to present himself at his post as required by the rule. His visit to Mexico at this time is for that purpose.

As stated at the embassy, Captain von Papen, the naval attaché, has gone on (Continued on Page 12, Col. 4.)

PROMISE OF CARRANZA RECEIVED

Of Early Investigation Into the Mystery of the Bauch Disappearance

TRUE FACTS OF AFFAIR

May Soon Be Known and Everything Being Done to Locate the American Says Note Received by Secretary Bryan Today.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, March 6.—Secretary Bryan received today a note from General Carranza, signed by Senor Fabela, acting secretary of foreign affairs of the cabinet of the constitutionalists, assuring the American government that the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Gustav Bauch would be promptly investigated. The text of the communication follows:

"Referring to the unofficial representation made by you to the first chief of the constitutionalist army through the department of foreign relations now under my charge, relative to the disappearance in Chihuahua of the American citizen, Gustav Bauch, I have the honor to inform you in accordance with the instructions received by me from the said first chief of the constitutional army, that having ordered all the necessary investigations in the case, as I had the honor to inform you in my note of the 28th of February, the result of the investigations made by the local authorities (at Chihuahua) shows that it is true that said Mr. Bauch was arrested in Chihuahua, charged with being an enemy to the constitutionalist cause; but later on, he was released, the authorities at Chihuahua, having at present no knowledge of his whereabouts. However, I am very pleased to inform you that the first chief wishes to have a very complete and detailed investigation made of this matter for the satisfaction of the department of state and for his own satisfaction and so that your government may see his good will to take into consideration any representation made to him in the proper manner, and therefore he has ordered the case of Mr. Gustav Bauch to be taken up by the special commission appointed to investigate the Benton case. Said commission will undertake to ascertain as soon as practicable the true facts concerning this affair, so that it will be possible to act in strict accordance with the law. At the same time I have the honor to inform you that the authorities at Chihuahua have received orders already to do everything in their power to locate Mr. Bauch."

The joint commission of American and British representatives, it became known today will get no further instructions until after the Mexican board of inquiry reports its findings. That the body of Benton may not be exhumed by the Mexican commission is not at all unlikely, for, it is believed, the commission will be able to learn just what were the facts of his death from eye witnesses.

Meanwhile state department officials are giving their attention to the reported murder of Clemente Vergara, an American citizen. John Bassett Moore, former counselor of the state department who is finishing up some work before finally severing connection with the department was at work today on the complicated questions of extradition involved. Telegrams prepared by Mr. Moore for Secretary Bryan to be sent to Governor Cozminu were expected to be made public later in the day.

A short midwinter holiday of two of the attaches of the German embassy and the departure for the city of Mexico of a third attaché formed the foundation for a report that a considerable portion of the embassy staff had been ordered to the Mexican capital.

Captain Franz von Papen, the military attaché, is not only credited to the embassy at Washington but also to the German legation at the city of Mexico. It will be a lot of fun.

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live in indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, yellow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Newark Daily Advocate.

NEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance. ESCAPES DEATH IN KERN FIRE; KILLED BY CARS

Orlando McDowell, aged about 40, who was believed to have been buried to death in the Kern hotel fire but who turned up later, was instantly killed by a train near Central City sometime during the night, his body being discovered at daylight Friday.

McDowell's body was horribly crushed and mangled. His head was crushed off, leaving his nose and chin only, and practically every bone in his body was broken.

The body was found along the tracks about daylight Friday by section men, who notified the B. & O. offices here. Bazler & Bradley, undertakers, were ordered to bring the body to their morgue where Coroner Wiyarch made an examination of the body.

McDowell has been well known to many Newark people, having resided in this locality for a number of years. He was a laborer and worked about the city during the summer.

In January, a few nights before the fire at the Kern hotel he had registered there and when one of the five victims remained unidentified for nearly a week, friends thought it might be McDowell. There was some doubt about the identity until McDowell turned up a couple of weeks later, having been in Tiffin.

Through the efforts of the police department he was received at the county infirmary where he remained until Thursday. He left the institution intending to come to Newark.

Thursday night, some one in Newark notified the infirmary that McDowell was hiding in a barn west of the city and that he claimed the police were after him. He acted a little "queer" and caused the complainant some anxiety. He was not seen again until his body was found this morning.

The body is at the morgue where it awaits instructions from relatives.

HERE'S A CHANCE TO SECURE NICE STATE POSITION

Examinations for thirty-one appointments under state civil service have been announced by the civil service commission of Ohio to be held in various cities of the state between March 14 and April 25, inclusive. For the positions of infirmarium superintendent and infirmarium matron examinations will be held in the court houses in Newark and Woodfield, Monroe county.

Applications for any of these examinations, together with lists of the positions to be filled, may be obtained without charge by writing the commission in Columbus. Applications made on blanks furnished by the commission, must be filed with that body at least five days before the date of the examination for the position sought by the applicant.

Every Home Needs This Great Remedy

No Home Can Afford to Be Without a Mild, Reliable Laxative-Tonic.

No well-regulated home should be without a laxative, for there is scarcely a day in a family of several persons that someone doesn't complain of a headache, of sleeplessness, or show the first signs of a cold.

A laxative then becomes a necessity or what was a trifling congestion at the beginning may run into a serious cold or fever. No harsh remedy is needed, but simply a mild laxative-tonic that will make the liver active and stir up the bowels. People who have tried a great many things, and are themselves heads of families, who have seen the little pills run to big ones, will tell you that there is nothing better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which you can obtain at any drug store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the family size.

Among the great believers in Syrup Pepsin for constipation in old or young, and as a general household emergency remedy, is Mrs. M. F. Smith, 710 N. Cherry St., San Antonio, Tex. To use her own words she says she will bless Dr. Caldwell to her dying day for she believes that through his remedy, Syrup Pepsin, she found the way to permanent good health.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is scientifically compounded and its purity is vouched for. Mothers give it to tiny babes, and grown people, taking a little larger amount, find it equally effective. It is mild and gentle, pleasant tasting and free from gripping.

It does not hide behind a high sounding name and is absolutely free from any prohibited ingredients. Families who once use Syrup Pepsin forever after avoid cathartics, salts, pills and other harsh medicines, for these only do temporary good, are nauseous and a shock to any delicate system. Such things should never be given to children.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Building a House in France.

It is unusual for a house, however small, to be erected in France without the service of an architect, who not only draws the plans, but actually superintends the work. Usually it is he who orders the building material and assures himself that its quality is up to the specifications and requirements.

The contractor and his workmen perform their duties in conformity with the architect's orders, and the latter, who is usually a man with capital, advances the funds required in order that the contractor need not wait for payment until the building is completed. Moreover, the French law imposes on the architect a serious responsibility, since he as well as the contractor is responsible for all defects of construction during a period of ten years.

The proper appreciation of your city—its relative worth—is the keynote of the great problem of civic betterment which is being worked out in Newark.

TOLEDO MAN EXPECTED TO DIE BY SEPTEMBER 20—BUT CHANGED MIND

Real Estate Dealer Finds New Life in First Dose of Mayr's Remedy.

D. L. Bower, treasurer and manager of the New Overland Real Estate Exchange at Toledo, thought death was close upon him. He suffered from derangement of the stomach and digestive tract and his condition was highly discouraging. He took Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Then he cheered up and went to eating. He had new interest in life.

J. W. Wood, Mr. Bower's partner wrote:

"This remedy is surely one of the greatest medicine I ever heard of. My partner spent $2,000 with renowned doctors in trying to get better. He gave himself up until about the 20th of September to live. He has taken three doses of your remedy. Now he can eat and sleep without any distress." Mr. Bower's experience was like that of hundreds who have suffered just as he did. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is known all over the country. Thousands have discovered its remarkable merit.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings quick relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to H. G. Marshall, 218 E. Main St. drug store and ask about the results it has been accomplishing or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St. Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and grateful letters from many people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you of its wonderful results.

Board of Trade Solicits Co-operation and Support of Men of Moderate Means

Newark must go forward in the matter of industrial development. There is no such thing as remaining stationary. One of nature's inexorable laws is often cited, the abhorrence of a vacuum, but another is of equal certainty of carrying a penalty for its violation, that death follows in the wake of stagnation.

This city has made progress in the past through the efforts of those men who in times past have been identified with the Newark Board of Trade, and the present conditions that make the time ripe for an industrial renaissance have been made possible largely through their work.

There is no better time to renew these efforts than right now. The opportunity will not tarry. The city's industrial growth has reached its maximum, its prosperity the zenith, due to former methods, and if means are not taken immediately to inject new life into the civic body the inevitable decline will begin, and following the operation of a well known law, it will be rapid.

Now there is no one force so vivifying in its tonic effects as that of manufactories going at full blast. The reasons are diversified, but plainly apprehended, and the most cogent is that there is a diversified labor market created, the demand for this labor tends to increase and maintain the wage standard, which results in that condition which must be precedent to any general municipal energy and progress, a well paid, satisfied body of skilled labor and wage earners.

Here again, Newark is indeed blessed. In no city in Ohio of any where near the size is there a greater per cent of the wage workers employed at remunerative return, and it is shown by a comparison of statistics that no city in Ohio has as high a per capita wealth among the laboring men as this city.

These facts are at the very foundation of the superstructure of the many investments, the great number of homes owned, and the general prosperity existing in Newark among this class of our citizens.

Now it is these very men, of small means, industrious instincts, temperate habits and a disposition to invest their savings in real estate and homes that the Board of Trade wish to reach. It is they who will be benefited by securing and enhancing these investments. Every factory running on full time, each new one locating in the city is a concrete asset to the home owner, be he large or small.

Again it is urged, and emphasis cannot be made too strong, that it is the object of the Board of Trade under the new plan, to arouse an interest among this class of homeowners, the provident and industrious workers on a stipulated wage, who have invested their savings and will be protected and in every way benefited by the policy of an industrial progress which will be inevitable as new factories are brought to establish in Newark.

This class are invited and urged to join the movement, talk over the proposal with others, make comparisons, and finally to evince an enthusiastic co-operation that means success.

MEETING OF THE LICKING COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CLUB

The Licking County Democratic Club will hold an important meeting at its rooms, 34 1/2 South Third street Friday evening, March 6. All members are urgently requested to be present, as several matters of special importance will come up for action.

On Second Thought

You can save a good deal of breath by remembering that the other fellow's interest in your troubles is purely academic.

The older the man the less the likelihood that he will put on a performance for the benefit of the ladies.

The average man has so little chance to achieve distinction that if he knows an actor or a prize fighter he considers it one.

There are various forms of torture, but being in love probably is the most severe form.

Jasper Ellington says those who have never arisen barefooted in the middle of the night to tread on a hair brush lying face upward in the middle of the room haven't missed much.

Martys formerly were burned at the stake and Buck Kilby says that is the most satisfactory plan.

There lately has been some inquiry for the old-fashioned woman who was afraid her petticoat would "show."

Probably the most generally unpopular man is the one who has succeeded.

THE OFFIS KID.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 6. [Special.]—Control of child labor and the labor of women in factories where the products of such factories enter interstate commerce is one of the definite reforms of the future. We cannot say when legislation will pass giving national control to woman and child labor, but it is coming.

All the time it is becoming more popular. Every investigation which shows the neglect of states regarding child labor and which shows where women are compelled to work for many hours gives the movement for national control added impetus. Coupled with this legislation is likely to be a provision fixing a minimum wage which corporations shall pay women and children employed in factories whose products go into interstate commerce.

Many strong constitutional arguments have been made against using the interstate commerce clause of the constitution to interfere with the rights and duties of states, but gradually it has been shown that the interstate commerce regulation can be made to cover almost anything which reformers think necessary to improve the conditions of the people.

Beveridge a Pioneer.

Former Senator Beveridge of Indiana was a pioneer in the effort to secure legislation for the control of child and female labor. He made strong arguments in favor of the legislation and brought forth several constitutional heavyweights in opposition. There never was a vote taken on his bill or any similar bill, but the prospects are that when a vote is reached on some one of the bills pending a majority will support it in both houses. Senators Borah of Idaho and Kenyon of Iowa are the most active workers in this movement, and they get results.

Pure Fabric Bills.

Congressman Lindquist of Michigan was elected largely upon the issue of obtaining legislation requiring pure fabrics in cloths and leather goods. He has introduced a bill to that effect, and so have others, among them Victor Murdock, the Progressive leader. Mr. Lindquist finds it much easier to promise than to get congress to perform. For many years General Grosvenor of Ohio tried to pass a similar bill, but never made any headway. This bill is another that proposes to make fabrics pure by provisions similar to the pure food law. Of course it can apply only to goods shipped over interstate commerce lines.

More Game Preserves. Congressman Kent of California would encourage more game preserves in this country by having all state preserves placed under the protection of the national government. He is seeking legislation to that effect and believes that if it should pass several states now having game preserves will turn them over to the general government.

A Taxing Hardship.

Congressman Morgan of Oklahoma has brought prominently before congress a taxing hardship which several states in the former Indian country have to undergo. He provides in a bill for the payment to Oklahoma of $20,000,000 in compensation for taxes which the state cannot collect upon untaxed Indian lands. There are thousands of acres of rich and profitable lands in former Indian reservations, taken by the Indians under the allotment act and which cannot be taxed by the municipalities or the states. However, it is not likely that the government will attempt to compensate the states for such losses.

Vigorous Labor Advocate.

Congressman Lewis of Maryland, chairman of the committee on labor, is no less a vigorous advocate of the workingman's interest than Congressman (now Secretary) Wilson, whom he succeeds. But Lewis is a rather versatile genius. He knows a lot about postal matters, particularly the parcel post. He had considerable to do with the present law and has several amendments to the law which he says are necessary to improve it. Among them are provisions which will make the rate on short hauls conform more closely to the actual cost of transportation.

Try to impress upon your friends when you meet them that Newark is the best city in this country. Your enthusiasm in Newark will arouse enthusiasm in others. 1-t

Good and Bad Books.

The bookstores groan beneath the weight of books in jackets gay; they're mostly perishable freight that flourish for a day; they're mostly books by Oppenheim, or tales that treat of sex, excursions in the world of crime, among the moral wrecks. And to the publishers we say: "Great Caesar and gad-zooks! Why don't you get a hump on, pray, and publish decent books?" They make reply: "We shall be glad when you yourselves have chased! We publish volumes, punk and bad, to suit the public taste. Just let the people show a wish for helpful books and fine, and we will issue tomes, 'ods fish, with truth in every line!" They'd have us think the people yearn for tales of bawds and thieves, for books so hot they fairly burn the hands that turn the leaves. But when a great big book arrives, a wholesome book and strong, booksellers have to draft their wives to wait upon the throng. Do people clamor for the muck and pass the good books up? Let Winston Churchill tell what struck his "Inside of the Cup." There is a book that's clean and sane, a book with moral grand, and dealers rustled round in vain to meet the big demand. Folks buy the sloppy, trashy tales in carload lots, indeed, because (as any a buyer waits) there's little else to read.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women, as well as men, take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets now and then just to keep in the pink of condition.

Miss Lorena Miller delightfully entertained the members of her sewing club on Thursday afternoon at her home in North Fourth street. The hours were devoted to needlework.

Those present were: Mrs. S. L. Smith, Mrs. Wilfred Jones, Misses Annabel Conrad, Ruth Jones, Helen Lake, Mary Anderson, Irene Hey and Mrs. Clyde Irwin, who was a guest of the club. A delicious dinner was served the guests.

Miss Nellie Fleming is entertaining the members of her sewing club this afternoon at her home in High street.

Mrs. Clarence Halsey is entertaining at her home in the Mt. Vernon road this afternoon.

Spring flowers in profusion adorned the home of Mrs. O. C. Parrill in Hudson avenue on Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Parrill entertained with a thimble party. The rooms were beautifully arranged with jonquils, daffodils and ferns and other foliage. The guest list numbered forty, among whom was Miss Sprague of Cleveland. Delightful refreshments were served.

Miss Daisy Carson will be the guest of Miss Mary Leggett of Columbus for a few days and will attend the reception given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cohen of Chicago, given tonight.

EWAN-SHANNON.
At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Anna Van Wey, Miss Elizabeth Shannon was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Ewan Thursday, March 5, by Rev. A. B. Cox.

At 7 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor where they were met by the minister and the wedding service was read. The bride was becomingly dressed in Copenhagen champagne. After the ceremony light refreshments were served to a few relatives of the contracting parties and the bride and groom left immediately for Nashport where they will be at home to their many friends. Mr. Ewan is a rural mail carrier.

Mrs. Stanley Courson entertained a number of her friends at her home Wednesday evening, March 4. Music and games furnished the entertainment of the evening. At a late hour a delicious two course supper was served to the following guests: Mrs. Stierman, Mrs. Martha Barrett, Mrs. Nettie Snelling, Misses Della and Stella Adams, Minnie, Mary, Loritta and Verna Bel Stierman, Alzina Smith, Maud Motts, Daisy Carson, Oma Martin, Lois Barrett, Mary Courson, Helen Deihl, Messrs. Ralph Adkins, William Winters, Monte Barrett, Lyman Snelling, Lynary Briggs, Rollie Anderson, Wilbur Gault, Chester Snelling and the hostess, Mrs. Stanley Courson.

Mrs. Harry Gibson delightfully entertained the ladies of the Independent Needle-workers club at her home in Elmwood avenue on Wednesday afternoon. A short time was spent in discussing business affairs, and a very interesting paper was read by Mrs. Levi Loughman. The hours were then devoted to the usual club diversion, after which an elaborate luncheon was served. Mrs. Williams was a guest of Mrs. Gibson.

BELIEVE THAT BOND BUYERS MADE MISTAKE

It is the general opinion that the mistake alleged by Seasongood & Mayer, the Cincinnati bond-buying firm, to whom was awarded the $30,000 bridge bonds of Licking county last Tuesday, was a genuine one, as far as the firm was concerned, and that they thought the bid of $1,585 was made on an issue of $60,000. Advice from Seasongood & Mayer are to the effect that the firm would have bid but $693 upon the $30,000 sold Tuesday.

THUG ASSAULTS A YOUNG GIRL AT CLEVELAND

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, March 6.—Police expect to arrest the assailant of Nancy Carlson, 14, attacked late Thursday night, bound, gagged and dragged into a vacant field where she lay unconscious all night. Early this morning, when she recovered, she staggered to the street and told her story to a man passing on his way to work.

The girl's story to police is that when she was on her way home from a moving picture show at East Ninety-third street and Kinsman road Thursday night a man stepped from a doorway, pulled her hat over her face, wrenched a muffler from her neck and tied the hat over her eyes. The thug then dragged her to a vacant lot where she says, he attempted to rob her. Finding she had only a few cents in her pocketbook the thug beat her into unconsciousness, she said.

Obituary

Clyde Drexel Dyarmett.
Clyde Drexel Dyarmett, aged 14 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dyarmett died at the home of the parents, in 70 Western avenue, Thursday evening at 9:40 o'clock. Friends of the family wishing to view the remains are welcome to call this evening from 6 to 8 o'clock or Saturday morning from 8 to 11. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Fry officiating. Interment at Cedar Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Frank Alexander.
Erza Mary Hamilton was born at Millersport, Ohio, Oct. 21, 1868, and departed this life, March 3, 1914, at her home 263 Elmwood avenue this city. She was the wife of Frank M. Alexander the well known letter carrier to whom she was married November 10th, 1890. To this union were born three children, George, Clyde and Marie. With these she leaves to mourn their loss her mother, Mrs. Mary Hamilton and one sister, Mrs. Dale Fisher, her father and one brother having preceded her to the spirit world. She had been in delicate health for some years past, but confined to her bed just fourteen days during her last illness, in which time she suffered intensely from complications following an attack of acute indigestion.

In Memoriam.
Much could be written of the passing away of Mrs. Alexander which has so sorely grieved her many friends. An altogether lovely character had she and a soft low voice which her friends can never cease to remember. As a wife and mother her devotion was the sincerest, ready at duty's slightest call. It seems but fitting that we pause to think of the untold suffering and the valiant struggle she made when bowed down with physical pain, and lastly of the faith we knew she had in Him who gave her an "Abundant Entrance" into eternal glory. May her memory be blessed by all who knew and loved her. Yet, as perfume lingers in the air, so her memory haunts our weary heart.

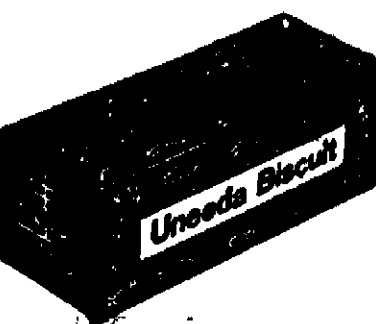

Though she has passed to other lands so fair, Where sorrow, pain, and parting have no part; We would not weigh our grief against her gain, But looking upward through the mists and gloom Not downward to her cold and silent tomb Behold His sunshine far above our grief and pain; Its golden gleam shall kiss life's troubled ways To pierce the gloom of gray and lonely days.

Mrs. Dennis Shaw of Chestnut street will spend a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Comes of Black Hand and Mr. and Mrs. Osborn Shaw of Nashport. She will return home Sunday.

Sympathy is very comforting, but don't let it influence you to be the under dog.

REPEAL

OF CLAUSE GRANTING AMERICAN VESSELS FREE PANAMA CANAL PASSAGE

Will Meet With Vigorous Opposition in Both Houses of Congress But Will Pass.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 6.—Shall Congress reverse itself and repeal the clause in the Panama canal act granting American coastwise vessels free passage through the canal?

This was the question which presented itself in the House and Senate today and upon which the undivided attention of the members of the two bodies was centered in response to President Wilson's personal appeal of yesterday.

In both senate and house, it was confidently predicted that more than a sufficient number of votes would be assured in favor of the repeal when the members were brought face to face with the issue. It was admitted, however, that there would be vigorous opposition in both houses and that a bitterly contested fight was certain.

BILL FOR REPEAL OF PANAMA TOLLS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, March 6.—The Sims bill to repeal Panama tolls exemption was favorably reported by the House commerce committee today by a vote of 17 to 4. Representatives Dore of Michigan, Democrat; Knowland of California, and Hamilton of Michigan, Republican, and Lafferty of Washington, Progressive, voted against it.

The Courts

File Answer.
Joseph H. Cornell, of Johnstown, recently filed suit for damage to stock alleged to have been occasioned by delay in shipment over the T. & O. C. and B. & O. railroads. Counsel for the B. & O. railroad company, Attorneys Durban and King, Zanesville, and Kibler & Kibler, of Newark, filed an answer in Common Pleas court Friday in which they allege that Cornell was given his option between two rates, one a higher rate for rush shipment, and the other a cheaper rate for ordinary shipment. They contend that Cornell assumed the risk by taking the cheaper rate.

Case Continued.
Common Pleas Judge Fulton Friday morning granted a continuance of the case of George E. Howell, charged with larceny and embezzlement. An affidavit was presented to the court asking continuance on the ground of absence of a material witness for the defendant, without whose testimony the defense could not proceed.

Juvenile Court.

EATING RELIEVES STOMACH TROUBLE

A Prominent Physician's Advice.

"Eat good foods and plenty of them. Dieting in many cases, is almost criminal. Get back to normal. To do so you must have the proper quantity of nourishment. You need it for brain or physical work. Probably there is nothing the matter with your stomach except acidity. That is merely an abnormal secretion of acid in the stomach. Neutralize that acid, and your trouble will end at once. No dieting means ulcers if not cancer of the stomach. It is not take patent medicines or pills in a drug store for a few cents. Take a teaspoonful in a quart glass of water after each meal. The acid will be immediately neutralized."

Squire Scott's Court.

George Thress appeared in Magistrate Scott's court late Thursday afternoon, pleaded not guilty to the charge of non-support of his three minor children, and gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance before the April grand jury.

B. & O. TRAIN IS DERAILED AT ATTICA JUNCTION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Toledo, O., March 6.—Baltimore and Ohio express train No. 14, running at about 25 miles an hour, was derailed at Attica Junction today. Seven of the coaches jumped from the rails, two of which turned completely over, being dragged 200 feet along the tracks.

Most of the injuries of the passengers consisted of cuts from broken glass and from bruises. The three rear cars, sleepers, did not leave the tracks. The wreck was caused by the derailment at the Pennsylvania railroad crossing, with which a part of the car equipment became entangled.

Officials of the Newark division say the derailment was caused by a broken truck on one of the express cars, and that no persons were injured. The train, No. 14, is a solid express train, and was reported running slowly at the time of the derailment.

FRECKLE-FACE

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

Do you know how easy it is to remove these ugly spots to that no one will call you freckle-face?

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from your druggist, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of freckles and get a beautiful complexion. The sun and winds of February and March have a strong tendency to bring out freckles, and as a result more othine is sold in these months. Be sure to ask for the double strength othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

CLEW OBTAINED TO SNUGLERS BY POLICE RAID

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, March 6.—Following a raid on an alleged opium den in Marion avenue early today, police believed they had obtained a clew which will lead to the arrest of a gang of opium smugglers which has operated in Cleveland for several years.

Frank Burton, negro, was fined $500 in police court a few hours after the raid on the charge of having opium in his possession in the Marion avenue raid 11 persons, two of them women, were found. One woman was almost unconscious from effects of the drug and was sent to the police headquarters hospital. Four men and this woman were arrested. The others escaped in a chase.

SHOT BY EMPLOYE.
New York, March 6.—Mrs. Mabel Garcia, a well-to-do Cuban and owner of a cigar factory, was shot and killed in her home in Park avenue today by Victor Reynolds, a young employee of hers, whose attentions she had rejected. Reynolds committed suicide.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

When the Furnace Fire Goes Out.

John, the Newly-Made Bachelor, was savagely raking out the furnace. The fire had gone out in the night, and to him, of course, fell the unpleasant task of raking. He had crawled forth in the chill gloom of the morning, in no amiable frame of mind, and as he poked and shovelled and swallowed ashes, his amiability did not increase, and, it must be confessed, he thought somewhat longingly of the steam-heated apartment of his bachelor days.

"Heck!" he exclaimed, as he jabbed his finger against the furnace and tore off a bit of skin, "as soon as I can afford it, I'm going to hire a man to do this work. Hang it all, why don't the confounded fire burn!"

As he struck matches, and opened and shut draughts, and swore, and always impossibly, the thought of his cozy bachelor apartment shrouded more and more; and, though it seemed high treason to think of them, he could not banish certain enchanting recollections. More firmly than ever, he determined to hire a man to do this work.

At last, the fire began to burn, and, leaving a trail of ashes, poker, shovel, hatchet and pieces of wood, he made a dash for upstairs.

"That furnace isn't any good," he said morosely to the New Bride, as he hurried through the kitchen. "We'd better get a furnace-man to look at it."

The New Bride was having troubles of her own. The potatoes had burned, the coffee had boiled over. She had forgotten to lower the blinds in the oven, and the rolls were a black crisp.

"Surely this gas is hotter than usual," she muttered, as she hurried about trying to repair damages.

"Breakfast ready!" sounded the voice of John.

"In a minute, dear."

"I'm late now. I should think you had had plenty of time to get breakfast while I was sweating over that furnace. Give me a cup of coffee. I'll have to go."

Hardly the Bride poured him a cup. "Oh, do eat a little," she pleaded. "Your eggs will be ready in a minute."

"No, I haven't time. I'm late now. Heavens, that coffee is hot. I'll get my breakfast downtown." And off he hurried, the memory of the poked and scalded served breakfasts of his bachelor days unconsciously strong upon him.

As he hurried into the office, fifteen minutes late, he glanced sympathetically at Frank, a fellow clerk who had been married a couple of years and who was coming in late and looking worried and hurried. "He wondered, a bit dully, if after all, this was what all married couples came to. He felt blue. He decided to jock the New Bride up a bit that night about having breakfast on time. It wouldn't do to be late and to get into bad habits. But the prospect of such a discussion wasn't alluring. And he couldn't help thinking of the peace and tranquillity of his spinster bachelor days.

And then when he went home at night, the New Bride came running to meet him, in a dainty frock, with her hair all fluffy and soft.

"The fire has been lovely all day, and the house is warm as toast," she murmured.

The living room was bright and cozy, the dinner table gleamed and sparkled with the snowy linen and shining glass and turquoise silver. She had cooked to a turn the things he especially liked. He didn't have to be positively solicitous about the waiters and doings of people he wasn't interested in. The dinner of his bachelor days seemed a cold, dreary affair in comparison with this table and the pretty New Bride opposite.

And the bachelor apartment, seemed all at once cramped, and cheerless, compared with this pretty home and the spirit of love that pervaded it. "I believe it does the fire good to go out once in a while," he said, as he helped himself a second time to dessert. "I'll know better how to build it another time."

"You just built it beautifully," said the New Bride, stealing around and kissing him. "And I was so sorry I didn't have breakfast ready."

"Never mind, sweetheart. Accidents will happen, but we won't let them worry us. Let's decide now, dear, not to let these little common mishaps of housekeeping make us lose our temper, or quarrel, or bring discord into the home."

The New Bride joyfully agreed, and tactfully kept silent as to whose lamp it was that had been lost that morning.

PURE OLIVE OIL

Contains nearly 100% of nourishment, while the next most nutritious grains contains less than 90%, and vegetables very much less. Two tablespoonfuls of Pure Olive Oil contain more nourishment than one pound of meat, and does not overtax the digestive organs. The food value of Pure Olive Oil—providing the quality is right—has no equal, and its nutritive qualities are quickly assimilated by the system and transformed into healthy flesh.

To get the best Olive Oil one must be very particular as to what brand he buys, for all Olive Oils are neither pure nor of first quality. You will never buy any other brand of Olive Oil once you have purchased Olivese.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Louis, March 6.—The paymaster of the Brown Shoe Co. was robbed of $10,000 at a factory of the company this afternoon, according to a report telephoned to police headquarters. The robbery was committed by two men who jumped from an automobile, ran into the factory and held up the paymaster.

NEW TREATMENT FOR CROUP AND COLDS
Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Stomach Dosing.
Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a good application of Vick's
"Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve over the throat and chest will relieve all cold troubles quicker than internal medicines. Just apply Vick's and cover with a warm flannel cloth.
Leave the covering loose around the neck so that the vapors of Eucalyptol, Thymol, Camphor, and Menthol, released by the body warmth may be inhaled all night long. Next morning the head is clear and phlegm loosened.
In addition Vick's is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness, entirely external—the ideal treatment for the little folks. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1.00.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, March 6.—Heavy selling of a few stocks caused general depression today. Chesapeake and Ohio's decline reached for a third of the month and Baltimore & Ohio was down 2 1/2.
Both of these stocks were sold heavily in London. Bear speculators were back to take advantage of these conditions and offered the principal stocks freely.
The appearance of further railroad reports for January and the poor showing in gross made by various lines in the last week of February also weakened the railroad stocks which relatively were heavier than the industrials.
Bonds were easy.

Opening figures which varied from last night's level to 1/2@3/4 lower, were followed by a general advance. In the corn crowd, predictions that receipts during March and April would not be more than a third of the amounts a year ago, helped to bring about an upturn. Several large specu- lators were good buyers. Quotations after starting 1/2 off to 1/2 up, made an upward ascent. Talk of Canadian competition had some effect on the oats market. Firm- ness of other cereals, however, checked the bears. Higher prices for hogs gave pro- visions a lift. First sales were 2 1/2 to 5c higher, and there was a subsequent further gain. THE GROUND HOG WEATHER WILL SOON BE OVER

That the force of the winter has been expelled is the opinion of many local amateur prophets, despite the fact that the six weeks of winter following the sunny groundhog day have not yet run their length on the calendar.

A steady rise in temperature beginning with Tuesday's thaw, which took away the bulk of snow and ice from the last snow storm continued Thursday. Heavy, dense atmosphere prevailed during the day, with a slight mist in the evening, turning into an intermittent drizzle. Friday morning's barometric pressure was very low with temperature of thirty-five degrees at 7:30 a. m., increasing slightly during the day.

Unsettled weather was the prediction for Friday and Saturday.

MINES TO CLOSE SAYS OPERATOR FROM THIS CITY

Zanesville, March 6.—Because of the uncertainty of labor and operating conditions, the Granger mine of the Pan-American Coal company at Buckeye, south of this city, will be closed today, and all plans of the company for opening a mine on Turkey Run, near Cannelville, will be stopped, according to an announcement here last night by Wayne Collier of Newark, O., superintendent of the property. The latter mine when opened would have been the largest in central Ohio. The equipment would represent an investment of $114,000 and 14 cars of machinery are now on the grounds.

"This action was made necessary because of the unsettled conditions in Ohio," said Mr. Collier. The company operates several mines and has a daily capacity of 1800 tons in this country.

A SIMPLE WAY TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent Falling Hair and End Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring; rub enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. Ad.

Tricked Him.

It was pay day at the Consolidated Coal and Lumber works, and a mine worker was returning home with his monthly envelope. He met a bad man with a pistol, who demanded his wages. The worker handed the money over.

"Now," said he, "my wife will think that I've gambled or drunk. Won't you shoot a hole in my coat, so that I can prove that I was attacked and robbed?"

"Why, certainly so," answered the robber.

The worker held out his coattail while the other punctured it with a bullet.

"Another," begged the worker, and the other fired again.

"Another," and there was another hole in the garment, another and still another.

"That's all the cartridges I've got," said the robber.

"All the cartridges you've got?" said the worker, picking up a rock. "Then give back that money. Hand over your pistol and whatever else you happen to have."—National Monthly.

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

CANNED GOODS FROM CONRAD'S DANDY PRIZE

Listen to this for an appetizing prize in the Advocate's Booklovers' contest—a case each of the famous Richelieu brand of Corn, Peas and Tomatoes. This prize, purchased of the Conrad Grocery Co., at 35 North Third street, although only valued at $12.00, is worthy of everybody's notice and is very acceptable to all. They are three of the most important of canned vegetables. These goods are packed by Sprague, Warner & Co., of Chicago, the largest wholesale grocery house in the world. They have made a specialty of canned goods putting on them the Richelieu mark which signifies the highest grade on the markets of this country. This big concern make it a point to give to the best grocery of each town or city the exclusive sale of these goods and they have so favored the Conrad Grocery Co. that they are now handling the entire line with remarkable success. People who use these goods always want more and call for them continually. The Conrad Grocery Co. will be pleased to show the Richelieu line to you and to quote you special prices in dozen and case lots.

The Conrad Grocery carries the largest and best assortment of groceries to be found anywhere besides, and an elegant line of the freshest fruits and vegetables the market affords. Read the easy rules of this Booklovers' contest game and commence today. Enjoy the pleasures of the picture solving along with your friends. You may be rewarded with these three cases of Richelieu canned goods from Conrad's.

THE FARMER'S ANSWER

A farmer who was carrying an express package from a city mail order house, was accosted by a local merchant: "Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and build up this locality." With characteristic frankness the farmer asked: "Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know you had the goods I have here, nor do I ever see your name in the paper inviting one to come to your store."—The Pomotrope.

STORY TELLER AT THE HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY EVENING

A great treat is in store for all mothers, teachers, or anyone interested in children at the High School Auditorium this evening. Mrs. Thomson of the University of Chicago, who is considered the best story teller in the United States, will tell some of her stories. The evening is particularly for mothers and club women and the general public. A story telling hour for children is now a great feature of all public libraries and nothing can be more instructive and entertaining. It is desired to give Mrs. Thomson a warm welcome and a large audience should greet her this evening.

INQUIRY OF COMMISSION IS RESUMED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, March 6.—News-papers of Democratic and Republican politics, published news sent out by the Democratic press bureau, and therefore the bureau is not strictly a partisan organization. A. V. Abernethy, secretary of the state tax commission and former head of the press bureau, was prepared to testify before the state civil service commission today when the commission resumed its inquiry into alleged violation of the civil service law started Wednesday.

Mr. Abernethy produced clippings from papers in different parts of the state to show the nature of news issued by the bureau.

W. E. Haswell, secretary of the state board of administration was also called before the commission to testify concerning funds which he is alleged to have received from employees in his department and turned over for the maintenance of the press bureau.

The inquiry was temporarily halted today. Adjournment of the inquiry was taken until Monday because of the enforced absence of Assistant Attorney General James Boulger.

FIRST TRIP OF RURAL CARRIER IN TWELVE DAYS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Marion, O., March 6.—J. S. Whaley, a rural mail carrier, was able to make his first delivery since Feb. 22 yesterday, when men helped him to cut a path through snow drifts covering a distance of two miles. The task was accomplished by taking down fences and cutting a road through the fields.

20 TEAMS WILL PLAY IN TOURNAY AT DELAWARE

Delaware, March 6.—With the drawing for places last night, the southern and second half of Ohio Wesleyan's high school tournament was ready for the preliminary contests today. Teams from New Carlisle, Nelsonville, St. Clairsville, Marysville, West Lafayette, Grove City, Yellow Springs, Newark, Columbus, Marietta, New Lexington, Delaware, Ansonia, Lancaster, St. Paris, Milford, Kingston, Xenia, Hamilton, Springfield and Dayton will compete. The players while in Delaware will be guests of the various fraternities and boarding clubs.

This half of the tournament promises to be even more spirited than was the first last week, and there is every evidence that a larger proportion of the games will be hard fought. Marietta and St. Clairsville are expected to put up especially hard battles.

INTERRED BODY MAY BE THAT OF WINTERS GIRL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Hamilton, O., March 6.—Mr. W. A. Winters of Newcastle, Ind., is expected here to meet Hon. Fryberger, formerly of Hamilton, and now of Cincinnati, O. Mr. Fryberger believes that the body of a girl buried in Greenwood cemetery, Hamilton, after the flood, may have been that of Catharine Winters. He wants the body of the girl exhumed.

Mr. Fryberger bases his belief mostly upon similarity of the clothing of the unidentified girl buried and the description of the clothing worn by Catherine Winters. The body was found south of Hamilton, and with others buried in a nameless grave.

NO INDICTMENT FOUND AGAINST MURDER SUSPECT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, March 6.—The grand jury returned no bill against Norman Stanley of Wheeling, W. Va., under arrest for the murder of Robert E. Mercer of Pittsburgh. Mercer disappeared December 21, 1913, being last seen at the new city hall where he was timekeeper, and Stanley was a night watchman. Mercer's body was found buried in the basement at the city hall three weeks later. A coroner's inquest decided he had been murdered. Stanley was then arrested at his home in Wheeling. It was shown at the preliminary hearing that Stanley and Mercer had been together the night Mercer was last seen alive and that they had quarreled. Stanley was immediately released and left later in the day for Wheeling.

Anaemic Since Childhood How Miss Holmes Regained Her Health.

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, ashen finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

What Vinol did for Miss Yvonne Holmes of Fall River, Mass., it will do for every anaemic run-down person. She says: "I have been weak and anaemic since childhood, always had that tired feeling. Tonic after tonic was tried with little or no result until Vinol was recommended, and after taking three bottles, my appetite and digestion have been improved. I do not suffer any more from insomnia, nor do I have distressing headaches as formerly, and I am stronger than I have been for years."

We ask every anaemic or run-down, weak person in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. Frank D. Hall, druggist, Newark, O. P. S.—Eczema Sufferers! We guarantee our new skin remedy, Saxo.

BANNER GRANGE AT BROWNSVILLE

Thornville, March 6.—The Browns-ville Banner Grange, No. 1738, will meet in regular session at the Browns-ville High school auditorium, March 10 at 7 p. m.

The following musical and literary program will be given: "Does the farmer pay more than his share of the taxes?" T. F. Hamilton, Discussion. W. H. Hidenhour, "Business efficiency in housekeeping." Miss Helen McMullen, discussion. Mrs. C. T. Winger, "Short course in Agriculture at Ohio State." Rae H. Barnes, Music for the evening in charge of Miss Nellie Orr.

ARE OPPOSING THE "FULL CREW" LEGISLATION.

Virginia railroads are opposing the third attempt to obtain "full crew" legislation in this state. Those opposed to such a law are sending literature throughout the state soliciting direct communication with the lawmakers. W. S. Battle, Jr., has issued a booklet on the subject for the Norfolk & Western railroad company.

MOTHER LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE

Do be careful! If cross, feverish, constipated, bilious, give "California Syrup of Figs."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste. Liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, brain bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

CLEVELAND HAS MYSTERY IN KILLING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, March 6.—Police scented another murder mystery in the finding of the body of Jacob Potoner, 35, in the subway under the Lake Shore tracks at Dille road, Nottingham. He was identified by papers found in an inside coat pocket.

Workmen on their way to the Collinwood Lake Shore shops, discovered the body.

A hurried examination at the morgue revealed only a few scalp wounds and body bruises which looked as though made with the butt of a revolver or a club.

"Madame Isbell's" Beauty Lesson

LESSON III—PART II.

For the Adolescent Girl.

Proper and frequent bathing is most important. If the complexion is muddy and inclined to eruptions, I advise stimulating baths, such as a cold shower bath, a cold plunge or a salt towel rub. I prefer the shower bath, but, if that is not possible, a plunge into a tub of cold water and a rub down with a coarse towel will answer. Any healthy girl is the better for a cold bath daily, and after a few attempts will enjoy the sensation. It should be omitted, however, during any passing illness, or if there is any tendency towards a chill, or if the heart is known to be weak. It can be replaced by the salt rub.

To do this get common sea salt, purchased at any druggist's, and make a strong brine in the bottom of the tub; let two thick Turkish towels soak in this for fifteen minutes. Then, without wringing, hang them up over the tub and let them drip and become thoroughly dry. Use these for a vigorous body rub every morning. Two towels will last a week.

Warm Baths are Necessary.

Remember that a cold spray or plunge does not constitute a cleansing bath. The warm bath with soap should be taken at night before going to bed, or if it is not possible to have the bath room twice a day, the body should be thoroughly washed at this time. This bath should take only a few minutes if taken in the tub; there is no advantage in remaining in hot, soapy water on the contrary, it may have a weakening effect. Be sure that soap is well rinsed from the body.

Never wash the face in the tub; it should be bathed in clear, soft water, with soap, if it agrees with the skin; if not, with a cleansing cream. If soap is used, rinse it well from the face and be careful that the washcloth is perfectly clean for a dirty cloth or one in which soap has remained will often cause pimples.

How to Banish Blackheads.

If blackheads are present, a special face treatment is necessary. Before going to bed bathe the face thoroughly with warm, almost hot water and apply a thick coating of blackhead cream. In the morning remove the cream with warm water and with a blackhead extractor press the blackheads out. Use the most conspicuous. Remove only a few at a time and do not too far together for I do not wish you to irritate the skin. Then apply the peroxide of hydrogen and protect the face during the day with a little face powder. Repeat this operation every night while the blackheads last, unless the skin becomes irritated; in which case confine it to alternate nights.

If you do not wish to use a blackhead cream, try the salt face rub. I do not advise this when pimples are present, but it will often remove blackheads and will whiten and clear a thick, dull complexion. Take coarse salt and rub it in the two hands, wet it and wash the face with it as if it were a lattice of soap and water, and rinse with cold water. Twice a week is sufficient for this treatment.

Are You Suffering From Auto-Intoxication?

The dictionary says that Auto-Intoxication is "poisoning, or the state of being poisoned, from toxic substances produced within the body." This is a condition due to the stomach, bowels, kidneys, liver, or pores of the body failing to throw off the poisons. More than 50% of adults are suffering from this trouble. This is probably why you are suffering from nervousness, headaches, loss of appetite, lack of ambition, and many other symptoms produced by auto-intoxication. Your whole system needs stirring up.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

(In Tablet or Liquid Form)

Will remedy the trouble. It first acts on the system to expel accumulated poisons. It then acts on the bowels, enabling the body to eliminate poisons. Your doctor will tell you outside aid. Once taken, you will feel better. In medicine without a peer. Get the sample package of tablets by mail. Address: Dr. J. C. Pierce, 155 N. 2nd St., New York, N. Y.

INDIGESTION GAS DYSPEPSIA GONE

"Pape's Diapepsin" fixes sour, bloated stomachs and you feel fine in five minutes—Time It!

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if you are gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

FIRE DESTROYS COAL TIPPERS, LOSS OF $50,000

(Associated Press Telegram)
Monongahela, Pa., Mar. 6.—Fire early today destroyed the river and railroad tippers of the Black Diamond mine of the Monongahela river consolidated coal and coke company near here with a loss of $50,000. It was necessary to dynamite a high trestle over the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad to prevent the flames from spreading to other buildings.

"HANDSOME WIDOW" GETS SIX MONTHS

(Associated Press Telegram)
New Haven, Conn., March 6.—Mrs. Addie Jewell whose various advertisements as a "handsome widow" in search of a housekeeper's position, netted her a considerable income, pleaded guilty of using the mails to defraud in the federal court today, and was sentenced to 6 months in jail. Her husband is serving a sentence as an accomplice.

FIVE THUGS BEAT BREWERY MANAGER

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, March 6.—Stephen S. Creadon, 57, manager of the Standard Brewing company, was severely beaten and rendered unconscious by five thugs who entered his office and demanded money. Policemen responded to Creadon's cries and chased the assailants. One suspect was captured.

TWO FINE PRIZES FROM BUSY BEE IN BIG CONTEST

What would you say if an $8.00 box of Booth Candy or a $7.00 box of Apollo Candy were presented to you at the close of the Advocate's big Booklovers' Contest? You'd accept with pleasure and if you didn't win the $515 in gold or the automobile you'd forget it in the enjoyment of eating this delicious candy. The Advocate has purchased these two beautiful boxes of candy from the Busy Bee in the Arcade. One is an exquisite silk pillow box of Booth's choicest candies, while the other is an unusually fine box of the famous Apollo candies. The Busy Bee is owned by Mr. Geo. Stamas and is one of the most attractive stores to be seen in any city. A fine new ceiling with beautiful dome light has just been added. Delicious home made candies fresh every day, Sundae, ice cream, ices and fancy drinks, are served in all the newest and daintiest modes. High class candies in boxes for all occasions and specialties made to order. Ice creams, ices, and frozen dainties are all sold in any quantities desired. A fine electric piano renders all the late musical selections making this a most delightful place to drop in during the day and evening.

If you're not already in—come in the contest today. You'll have lots of fun guessing the picture and there's more fun coming if you win one of these beautiful boxes of delicious candy from the Busy Bee in the Arcade.

When Mrs. Gudrun Thorne-Thomsen Comes.

Bobbie came to pretty auntie, "Tell a story to me, please." Auntie crocheted several stitches, "Run away, Bob! Mustn't tease."

Bobbie came to tired mother, And he stood close to her side "Please tell me tales of noble knights Who on gallant steeds do ride."

Bobbie, dear, you crowd so close, dear, Run away, now, to your play, Mother, doesn't know that story. Yes, yes, I'll tell you one some other day.

Then he came to his big sister, Begging tales of princess' fine. She tucked a pony in her hair—Saying, "Oh, dear, no, I haven't time."

Bobbie went into the garden, To his friends so tried and true, Saying, "Roses, lilies, pansies, I must come for tales to you."

"Why don't grown folks remember That if they would keep their youth They must live with trolls and fairies." And verily he spoke the truth.

Friends, "You grown-ups, There are fairies, witches, too. And if you would keep your heart young, You must keep them close to you."

Little lads, and big ones, too, And lassies of all ages— I've the very best news, You'll find within these pages

Mrs. Gudrun Thorne-Thomsen. Will tell such lovely tales, To little folks and big folks, Be there without fail.

On Friday next at one o'clock, You'll meet fairies by the score, Be at the High school auditorium, And you'll learn of many more.

ATTEMPT TO ROB OHIO POSTOFFICE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cincinnati, Ohio, March 6.—An attempt was made to rob the postoffice at Sugar Creek late Wednesday night by three men who were frightened away before they had succeeded in opening the safe. Geo. Yakley discovered the men at work while passing the postoffice at 2 a. m. The robbers fired at him and ran. The safe contained $250 and stamps.

CUT SALARIES OF ALL FIREMEN AND POLICEMEN

Boston, March 6.—In furtherance of plans to reduce city expenses Mayor Curley has restored the salaries of many members of the fire department to their basis before they were increased by former Mayor Fitzgerald. All except the "privates" were affected and the total reduction amounts to $65,000 a year.

The mayor will try to secure a similar cut in salaries in the police department.

Given Under Auspices of the International Bible Students Association and No Admission Will Be Charged Or No Collections Will Be Taken—The Bible Story Told in Moving Pictures and City is Fortunate in Securing Them.

Newark is the first city in the United States, except one, with a population of less than 150,000 to be favored with Pastor Russell's Photo Drama of Creation. This stupendous religious production, which was prepared at a cost of more than $500,000 and three years of untiring effort, will be presented in the High School Auditorium for eight days, beginning Saturday, March 7th at 3 p. m., and continuing twice daily up to and including Sunday, March 15, with the exception of Friday, March 13.

The Photo-Drama of Creation is to be given under the auspices of the International Bible Students Association who have already provided for all the expenses incident to the Newark exhibition. It is to be presented entirely free to the public, there being no admission charged; no collections taken, and no financial assistance of any kind solicited, either directly or indirectly.

The Photo Drama of Creation is presented in four parts of about two hours each, and consists of the finest motion films that have ever been produced to portray the great Bible story. Highly colored stereoscopic slides are also employed, together with a photographic description thereof.

Part one traces creation from star Nebula to the Deluge, and it's causes, on to Abraham's time. Part two begins with Melchisedec, leading through Israel's experiences to the Babylonian Captivity. Part three extends from Daniel's time to Jesus' advent. His sufferings and exaltation. Part four takes us from Pentecost through the "dark ages" and onward into the Millennium.

The religious history of the world from the first moment when "the earth was without form and void" down through the corridors of time to the present day, is traced in detail in the Photo Drama of Creation and in the lecture that accompanies it, science, history and the Bible are blended into a beautiful, harmonious story.

The International Bible Students' Association, which is giving the Photo Drama of Creation, free to the public at 3 and 8 p. m. each day, is an unsectarian, evangelical society, founded by Pastor Russell of the Brooklyn and London Tabernacles. It's object

You'll Crow Over "GETS-IT" for Corns!

It Will Steal You How "GETS-IT" Gets Corns Every Time.

"One, two, three!" That's about as long as it takes you to apply "GETS-IT," the new, plain, simplest corn cure the world has ever seen. Corn fussing is all over. Corns, corn pains and calluses are absolutely done for from the minute you apply "GETS-IT." Forget the bother of useless plasters, greasy salves that spread and make toes sore and raw, little doughnut cotton rings that press on corns, forget knives, razors, scissors and the dangers of blood poison from drawing blood, and the contraptions and harnesses that simply make corns worse. "GETS-IT" never hurts the flesh, never fails.

"GETS-IT" is sold by all druggists. Use a bottle or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

star with Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead" is a farmer by birth and early training, born in Annapolis county Nova Scotia, his early life was spent on the farm. In fact it was some time after he had arrived at the age of manhood that he left his "Down East" home to identify himself with things theatrical.

At heart Mr. Lawrence is still the bucolic gentleman and his pet slogan today is "Back to the soil, young man and stay there." In proof of the earnestness of this remark, one has only to see him after the close of the season, on the farm acquired a few years ago in the town of his boyhood.

Statistics positively show that the percentage of young men who leave the farm for the city and succeed are few indeed. While the percentage of those devoted to farming and agriculture who fail, are in a very small minority.

"Little Lost Sister."

How to apprise the theatergoer reliably of the new play he wants—that is the problem. Most theatrical men are as deeply in the dark about how to solve it today as they ever were.

Yet this year several theatrical "death-defiers" have taken the leap. Those were the fellows who have staged white slave plays. Two Chicago producers rank foremost in this line. They are Robert E. Rickson and Frank Gazzolo. These men are the producers of "Little Lost Sister," dramatized by E. E. Rose, from Miss Virginia Brooks' remarkable book.

The play has met with unusual success. Perhaps the one big reason for this is the fact that the story is true and the presentation is accurate. Both the writer of the book and the dramatist have studied hard, diligently, and faithfully the conditions which cause young girls to go astray. And they have written a wonderful play.

It will be seen at the Auditorium next Wednesday matinee and night, March 11th and is guaranteed to be one of the best and strongest of the present season.

John E. Miller, 32, Columbus stenographer, died under the anesthetic when surgeons attempted to remove his tonsils.

An epidemic of 21 cases of scarlet fever at Piqua makes it necessary to close one school building.

RESISTANCE TO DISEASE

Why is it that one person can work all day standing in cold water, slush and snow with no harmful effect, while another with less exposure contracts colic, pneumonia, rheumatism, sciatica or something equally distressing and dangerous?

Because in the first case the body was in such perfect balance that there was "resistance" to disease. In the second there was lack of tone that invited ill health.

Keep your system toned up with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and foods that once distressed you will be harmless, exposure will bring no fears of rheumatism and neuralgia and even germ diseases need hardly be dreaded.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills assist digestion, correct the lassitude, the palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor of face and lips that are the results of thin, impure blood.

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. Get a box from the nearest drug store and begin this treatment now.

Sent to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."

'KING BABY'S BIRTHDAY'

Self.

Howard, father of baby Thomas Santachi
Mother-in-law Lillian Brown Leighton
Mrs. Howard, mother of baby Harriet Notter

WHEN Mrs. Howard told her husband that her mother was coming to pay a visit he assumed an attitude he believed was suggestive of despair. Then he laughed tragically. "There it goes," he said with a gesture of farewell. "There goes our happiness. We're not going to have another peaceful moment. She'll be like all the rest of them. She'll try to run everything."

Howard did not really dislike his mother-in-law. His notions of mothers-in-law had been imbibed from the comic papers.

Mrs. Howard made no protest against this inhospitable speech. She sympathized with it. Her happiness, she knew, was so perfect that the entrance of an outsider into the family circle would be sure to mar it. Mother was all right, but why must she come at this particular time? Why couldn't she wait a year or two? Really, she had no time to entertain visitors. Every moment was occupied with entertaining baby.

Ah, that baby! Really, the most beautiful, precocious, interesting, promising child in the world. Was it strange that his mother should worship him, or that his father should be a slave to his slightest whim? He had been born into this family a monarch. He ruled with the divine right of kings.

Nevertheless there was no way of staving off the inevitable, and in due course of time mother-in-law arrived. Things turned out just as Howard predicted. She had no sooner established herself comfortably in the house than she began to "run things." It is true that he did not always find this interference objectionable. For instance, when she insisted on his wife preparing panned eggs, of which he was extremely fond, for breakfast, he was secretly pleased. It was Mrs. Howard who objected to that. She said nothing, but she realized bitterly how completely her husband's prophetic gift had been vindicated.

And then there was that other day, when mother-in-law interfered. The outcome of that incident was terribly humiliating. And yet, at the end of it, they had had to thank mother-in-law. The baby had been sick all day. Mrs. Howard had been terribly worried. The doctor had been sent for and had found nothing wrong, but when he went away the baby was still crying. It was not until night, when the wailing of the baby threatened to interfere with the sleep of everybody that mother-in-law took a hand. Then she looked the baby over quite calmly, examined him, undressed him, and finally produced a safety pin which had been irritating his anatomy. After that she gave the baby a warm bath and he went to sleep. But Mrs. Howard didn't. The episode rankled. The finding of that pin seemed a personal reflection.

Meanwhile the great day was approaching when baby should celebrate his first birthday. Mrs. Howard had summoned a dressmaker to make the youngster a new dress for the occasion. Secretly she and her husband rammaged the stores for presents. Mother-in-law remained quietly at home. Her lack of excitement on the eve of such an important occasion seemed little less than sacrilege. She was interested in getting acquainted with the dressmaker. But on the evening before the great day she found time to do a little shopping.

Incidentally mother-in-law also found time to drop in and visit the dressmaker at her home. She found her with her two children, a boy and a girl. She had been describing the great preparations for king baby's birthday celebration, and her boy, listening eagerly, brought her account to a close with a question.

"Why, mother," he said, "Esther's birthday is tomorrow, too. Why don't we ever have birthday parties?"

The problem seemed to be too much for mother. Her silence, the tears in her eyes, the evidences of poverty that crowded the rooms in which she lived, made mother-in-law thoughtful. She left the dressmaker's in that mood.

When she reached the Howard home she found the fond mother and father unwrapping their votive offerings to the monarch of the family. There was a rocking horse, a large doll, a toy engine, a train of cars, and a doll's house. King baby ignored them. But when mother-in-law presented her present, a cheap celluloid rattle, he grasped it in his chubby hands and gave the nearest imitation of a laugh of joy of which he was capable.

"My poor children," said mother-in-law, addressing the father and mother, "did you buy these things? They're too old for him. He doesn't understand them."

"New," went on mother-in-law. "I have a suggestion to offer. "Our dressmaker's little daughter has a birthday tomorrow. Let's give all these things to them. They are old enough to appreciate them. That child has never had a birthday party in her life. Let's get up a party for them."

She sketched the history of the family as the dressmaker had told it. When she had finished there were tears in Mrs. Howard's eyes.

That party is one of the most delightful in the Howards' memories. The joy of the children, their ecstasy over their gifts, their appetites at the big dinner that mother-in-law prepared for them, and the gratitude of the mother will live, for them, forever.

After they had gone, the three entered the room where baby lay sleeping. There was a smile on his face, and he clutched his celluloid rattle to his breast.

"So you see," said mother-in-law, softly, "we're all happy. There are many degrees of happiness."

After mother-in-law had gone to bed, Howard and his wife lay down before the big fireplace. Finally Howard broke a long silence.

"Your mother," he said to his wife, "is a clever woman. She knows how to manage things."

"Yes," replied his wife, "and people."

"The Hero."

—Vingraph.

Maude, a charming girl, who is having her very first masculine caller, is greatly impressed with Percival, who is fat and greatly impressed with himself. He assumed in the of Percival's charms that she scorns her brother's college chum, who is home on a vacation. She pins her faith to Percival under the delusion that he will fulfill her magazine requirements of heroism.

The lady arrange to test the youth's metal when they learn that he has invited Maude to have lunch with him at a fashionable restaurant, with their college acquaintance experience the brother changes himself into a villainous outlaw, a process the audience follows delightedly.

When Maude and Percival depart for the restaurant Syd follows at a discreet distance, enters and seats himself at a table just behind Maude. Then in comes her brother, in all the horror of his highwayman gear, and dashing to Maude's table, sings himself threateningly before her. She screams and falls fainting into the waiting arms of Syd, while Percival speedily fades away.

NEW QUARTERS ARE OPENED BY Y. W. C. A. TODAY

Belowed and prettily arranged to captivate the fancy the Y. W. C. A. quarters were all ashine on Friday when the formal opening of the association, since its removal to the Ludlow building was held.

The corps of capable assistants was busy during the day preparing for the numerous guests and the large building was thronged with visitors. The new home of the association is such a cozy attractive place that a visit there produces but one desire, and that is to be a part of it, and this can be done by a membership to the association and the rates are reasonable beyond belief.

In the pretty dining room of blue and white dainty refreshments were served by the membership committee. The dining room is really a picture in blue and white. The walls are done in this color while quaint plate rails contain china in the two colors. The cozy little tables and chairs are of white enamel and today each proudly bore a blue or white hyacinth embedded in white and caught with blue ribbons.

During the afternoon hours, Miss Junia Sells gave a selected program of piano numbers while Fields' orchestra played during the afternoon and will be heard again this evening. For the benefit of the visitors a demonstration will be held in the domestic science room on the second floor. An opportunity was given the guests to sign for a free millinery and sewing class and for Bible study under the direction of Rev. F. E. Holloway.

Especially pleasing to those interested in the work was the presence of Miss Constance McCorkle, territorial secretary of the association, who organized the Y. W. C. A. here, and Miss McCorkle was greeted by a number of friends. The receiving line was made up of the members of the board of directors.

The building was crowded during the hours, which were from three to ten o'clock and all visitors were shown over the entire building.

NEWARK WINS FIRST GAME OF TOURNEY

A telephone message received at the high school this afternoon states that Newark won its first game in the basketball tournament at Delaware, defeating St. Charlesville by a score of 15 to 13. At 2:45 this afternoon Newark meets New Carlisle high school.

ASKS EXCEPTION OF COURT ORDER IN DIVORCE CASE

In the first divorce petition filed in common pleas court since Judge Fulton's order that security for costs must be filed before the court will hear a divorce case, Attorney E. G. Smythe in the case of Cora Craig vs. Allen Craig, a suit for divorce, alimony and custody of two minor children.

An affidavit proving the plaintiff to be indigent, thus entitling her to enter court without a deposit of security for trial costs, was filed by Mr. Smythe in the case of Cora Craig vs. Allen Craig, a suit for divorce, alimony and custody of two minor children.

Mrs. Craig says she and her husband were married June 12, 1887, and have two children, Homer, 15, and Hazel, 6.

She says her husband has been guilty of habitual intoxication for three years, and that he has failed to provide necessities. She says he was always cross and ill-natured, and that on Dec. 27, 1912, he assaulted her, and on January 9, 1913 he ordered their son from the house, then threw him violently on the bed, and ordered Mrs. Craig to leave and take their young daughter with her. Further, she charges that on the following day he threw her over a chair and struck her with his fist, and she ran to her mother's home. She says he followed her and struck her again, fracturing her left cheek bone and blackening her eye.

Mrs. Craig says she has $300 interest in a property to which they hold title, in Beaver county, Pennsylvania. Her husband's occupation is that of a stationary engineer.

CASE AGAINST BERA ASSIGNED FOR WEDNESDAY

County liquor licensing commissioners announced Friday that the trial of the case of Adam Bera, saloonist, 140 East North street, set for Monday at 9 a. m., will be held Wednesday at the same hour. Bera is charged with having entered a false oath regarding ownership of his place of business. Attorneys S. L. James and J. H. Miller represent the prosecution, and Attorney J. R. Fitzgibbon is counsel for Bera.

The barber's apprentice had just finished his operation on the man in the chair. "How does your face feel now?" he asked. "Cut and dried," grunted the man in the chair.

SHILKE—"It isn't a wise plan to judge a man's age by his appearance." CRUCIUS—"No maybe he's married."

Your Best Friend

"Brownstone" Hair Stain Will Retain For You Your Youthful Appearance. What Other Friend Can Do As Much?

After all one of the chief pleasures in life is that of appearing in as attractive a manner as possible. And there are but few stimulants that will so quickly detract from your personal appearance as gray, faded or streaked hair.

"Brownstone" Hair Stain will help you in just this emergency. With it you can touch up the gray spots instantly—or you can in a few moments time give to your hair that rich, soft brown, so much to be desired. Or you can make it a glossy black if you prefer. All this without the possibility of detection, failure or harm to either hair or scalp.

No previous experience whatever is necessary when you use "Brownstone." Just brush or comb it into the hair.

A sample and a booklet will be sent you upon receipt of 10 cents. All of the leading drug stores sell "Brownstone." Two sizes, 25c and $1.00. Two shades—one for golden or medium brown, and the other for dark brown or black.

Prepared by the Kenton Pharmacal Co., 422 E. Pike St., Covington, Ky.

Sold and guaranteed in Newark by R. F. Collins, Evans' Drug Store and other leading druggists.

MANDARIN CRAPE FROCK.

Paquin designed this afternoon frock of mandarin crape, with collar of satin folded about the neck in cowboy fashion and the flounces ultra Parisian of 1914. The back girle is draped, while the upward flare and the full back of the skirt are also in the mode.

GAY COLORS FOR SPRING.

As it should be with spring fashions, bright colors are popular. This may be due to the craze for futurist innovations, this school of art being the advocate of gayety in attire. Under these circumstances it is likely to be a trying time for the woman who has no eye for color, for some of the combinations are bizarre in the extreme and must be adapted to suit individual requirements.

Perhaps the reason money is called dust is because so many people are blinded by it.

Many Recoveries From Lung Trouble

A medicine for Throat and Lung Trouble which has been thoroughly tested for many years, and which has been instrumental in restoring complete health to a large number of sufferers, should be thoroughly investigated by everyone. While no undue claims are made for it, we say guarantee that its use will restore health. Eckman's Alternative has been given the full credit in saving lives in many cases. Read this case:—Wilmington, Del. "Gentlemen: In January, 1908, I was taken with a hemorrhage of the lungs. My physician one of the leading practitioners of Wilmington, Del. said that it was too late to do anything, and he gave me a prescription for a mixture of cod liver oil and iron. I took it for some time, but it did not do me any good. I then went to Dr. Eckman's Alternative, which had done great good, and upon his suggestion I began taking it at once. This was about June, 1908. I continued faithfully using it until I was well. I am now a healthy man, and I am sure that Eckman's Alternative saved my life. (Above abbreviated, more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' use to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Troubles, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Asthma, Stomach Colds, and in abolishing the craving for narcotics, opium, or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa. for cost free. For sale by all leading druggists.

Make Your New Gowns, Waists and Lingerie With QUAKER LACES

THE STYLE HERALDS ARE PROCLAIMING AND REPEATING ONE WORD—

Lace! Lace!! Lace!!!

To meet the season's demand for light laces we offer QUAKER LACES of beautiful designs in shadow lace, and other light laces now so fashionable. As the call for dress drapery still exists, the use of lace becomes more general. The collarless gown makes a low, soft collar of some sort necessary, and the light shadow laces of QUAKER designs are in great favor. No matter what the garment may be, it will be incomplete without lace trimmings. Breakfast gown, street dress, evening gown, waists and lingerie, all require lace trimmings. To meet fashion's demand we offer this beautiful line of QUAKER LACES in white and cream grounds.

Flouncings in 15, 18 and 27 inch widths. All-overs in 18 and 42 inch widths. Insertions and edges to match, and in many designs, you will find four and five different widths to match.

Every woman who loves beautiful laces should seize the first opportunity to see our display of QUAKER LACES. It will be an hour pleasantly spent.

COAL MEN ARE DUBIOUS ABOUT FUTURE SUPPLY

Bidders for Year's Supply for Water Plant Refuse to Guarantee Fulfillment of Contract.

Bids were opened Thursday noon at the office of Service Director Christian for a year's supply of water meters for the water works department and for a year's supply of coal for the pumping station. The following firms submitted bids for meters: Hursey Mfg. Co., Buffalo Meter Co., Thompson Meter Co., Union Meter Co., Gayman Meter Co., Pittsburg Meter Co., and the Worthington Meter Co. The water works department is using the Pittsburg meter now.

The B. & O. Coal Co., with headquarters in Cleveland and the Ohio & Michigan Coal Co., were the only bidders for the coal supply. Both bids were unsatisfactory to the city officials as neither company would guarantee a year's supply owing to the unsettled labor conditions in the mining district. It is possible that Director Christian will arrange for the storage of a sufficient quantity to last for a year to guard against a possible shortage should a strike of miners take place.

No contract was entered into either for coal or meters.

THE MEMBERSHIP CONTEST AT Y. M. C. A. IS IN FULL SWING

The Junior boys of the Y. M. C. A. are showing a great deal of interest in the contest now on for new members in their department. Some boys have the reputation of being hustlers. These are already bringing in new boys to show them about the building. Some who have never had experience in soliciting members are beginning to show their quality. These boys will be the board of trade members of tomorrow and they are now learning how to do its work. Some useful prizes have been given by some of the leading merchants and others have indicated that they wish to help in this way. The following prizes are on display in the Y. M. C. A. window:

- First prize—Brownie camera; T. M. Edmiston.
 - Second prize—Baseball shoes; A. S. Stephan.
 - Third prize—Flexible sleg; Coulter-McKay.
 - Fourth prize—Flash light; Newark Electric Co.
 - Fifth prize—Jersey; Roe Emerson.
 - Sixth prize—Scout watch; Haynes Bros.
 - Seventh prize—Y. M. C. A. pins; C. W. Grimm.
 - Eighth prize—Tennis shoes; Jones & Wesson.
 - Ninth prize—Bill book; R. C. Collins.
 - Tenth prize—Hiker's cook outfit.
 - Eleventh prize—Comb and brush; T. J. Evans.
- Prizes 12 to 20—Choice of emblem button, tie clasp or class picture.
- A boy's meeting will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. to help interest the boys in the contest. Team leaders and others will address them. All boys of 10 years and over are urged to be present.

VALUE OF RHEUMA FROM THE COURT

Judge Barhorst Was Relieved of Rheumatism After Doctors Failed.

If you have tried many other remedies and doctors' treatments for Rheumatism and found they failed, do not be skeptical about trying RHEUMA. Read the testimony of Judge John Barhorst of Fort Laramie, O.: "After treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very bad case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previously, I was a cripple, walking with crutches."

Such testimony should be convincing. 50 cents of Evans' Drug Store, guaranteed.

GEN. TERRAZAS HAS UNTIL SUNDAY TO PAY BIG RANSOM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
El Paso, Texas, March 6.—General Terrazas has until next Sunday to pay the 500,000 pesos ransom for his son Luis, who is held by the rebel general, Francisco Villa at Chihuahua. This sum is equal to $25,000 American gold, but the once multimillionaire of Mexico has not that much left, according to his friends.

The letter demanding the money was dated March 3 and stated that if the ransom were not paid within five days Luis would be "taken south" with General Villa.

This threat, General Terrazas construed in only one way and that is that his son will fall a victim to the notorious fugitive law if the money is not forthcoming.

Under the convenient provisions of "Ley Fuga" the prisoner is always shot "while trying to escape."

General Terrazas is eighty years old and is greatly shaken by the peril to his son. The latter has been a prisoner for several months and has already submitted to the extortion of $650,000 American gold to save his life.

It is probable that George C. Carothers, special agent of the department of state at Washington will be appealed to on his return from Nogales tonight to use his good offices with General Villa whom he has known intimately for several years. It is hoped that Carothers may prevail on the rebel leader to put a milder interpretation on the "trip south" than is usual in such cases.

PRAISE PAID PRES. WILSON BY LONDON PRESS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, March 6.—Laudatory comments on President Wilson's message to congress are published in most of the newspapers of this country today. The government organ, the Westminster Gazette, pays the highest compliments to President Wilson for his attitude in regard to the question of Panama canal tolls. It says:

"It is not always convenient to hail a statesman of another country as a 'just judge' when he advocates your cause against a section of his own countrymen. We cannot refrain, however, from expressing respectful admiration for the courage and manliness with which President Wilson handles the Panama tolls question."

"The President of the United States sets an example of straight dealing which may be recommended to diplomats of the world."

Referring to President Wilson's mention of "other matters of even greater delicacy," the Westminster Gazette says:

"We understand the allusion, and think it right to say at once that Mr. Wilson's handling of this question greater facilitates quiet consideration of the other and more delicate questions here alluded to."

On the subject of William S. Benton, the British ranchman killed at Juarez the same newspaper says:

"When we are dealing with Americans with such manifest uprightness and goodwill as President Woodrow Wilson, we shall certainly not expect our government to force those issues in a chop-logical and contentious spirit."

The only material point for us to consider is whether if the United States was non-existent in this affair we could do anything better for ourselves than it is endeavoring to do for us.

"To that question there is none but a negative answer."

"We greatly depreciate all efforts in this country to force the United States into an adventurous policy out of keeping with President Wilson's ideas."

The Pall Mall Gazette says:

"President Woodrow Wilson's action sweetens the atmosphere of international relations between us and our kin on the other side of the Atlantic."

While acceptance of the invitation to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco would be incomparable in magnitude with the high minded act of President Wilson, the British government has it in its hands to give a token of reciprocal good will."

The Globe, the Evening Standard and the Liverpool Post likewise applaud President Wilson's message and urge the British government to reciprocate by accepting the invitation to take part officially in the San Francisco exposition.

years old. Mrs. Ellis was a beautiful woman and the mother of two little daughters, Eleanor and Violet, 8 and 2 years old respectively.

Ellis killed his wife in their hotel room sometime in the night of Oct. 15 or the early morning hours of Oct. 16. He was found with the body the afternoon of Oct. 16. Ellis was then clad in his trousers, under garments and his wife's kimono. His neck and wrists were bloody where he had slashed himself with a pen-knife. He was trying to light a cigar and his first act was to ask the house detective for a match.

Mrs. Ellis' body was lying on the bed in its nightdress—it was stone cold. Several bullets had been fired into her left side and her throat had been cut from side to side down to the spinal column. The window curtain, telephone receiver, bureau and chairs and other objects handled by Ellis during the long hours he passed alone with the corpse were bloodied by his fingers.

Ellis' first assertion was that the killing was the result of a suicide agreement entered into by his wife and himself because of his business troubles. He insisted that she had killed herself and that he had then attempted to kill himself but had failed. The tragedy took place, he said, after they had decided that life was hopeless for them.

Ellis' story began to break down when the story of his jealousy of Caldwell escaped him. Before the coroner's jury he stated formally, after witnesses had testified that Mrs. Ellis' wound could not have been self-inflicted, that he had killed his wife as she lay in bed unsuspectingly. He declared that she was "the best and purest woman in the world," and that he had no reason to suspect her. Denials were received from Caldwell in Canada that he had been in communication with Mrs. Ellis and Ellis was taken to the jail hospital. His wounds proved to be slight.

Before leaving the coroner's jury room Ellis asked to be permitted to take a farewell look of his wife's body. He was brought to where it lay on the undertaker's slab and repeatedly he pressed his lips to those of the corpse. Ellis' story to the coroner's jury of how he lay all night after the murder kissing and fondling the corpse of his slain wife, until it grew cold and rigid in his arms, was so gruesome as to horrify his auditors. Throughout the recital he sat, dazed, dull and stupefied as if overwhelmed by his deed.

Soon after he began to regain his health in the jail hospital, however, Ellis expressed a desire to live "for the sake of his children," and it became apparent that his counsel strenuously would resist conviction for murder.

Prominent among those who attended the trial were the 77-years-old father of Mrs. Ellis, and his venerable wife, who were roused to make the journey from Cincinnati for the purpose of defending the reputation of their daughter, attacked in Ellis' assertion of his jealousy. The "transitory insanity" defense, later modified to "psychic epilepsy," was fiercely attacked by alienists called by the state.

A tragic moment in the trial was when a copy of a telegram signed "E. H. Ellis," and sent to Fred Caldwell, was read. The message said that the sender would be in Chicago for a few days.
